

Fox River Water Reclamation District (FRWRD) Information Pursuant to Section 4 of Illinois FOIA

Summary of Purpose:

The Fox River Water Reclamation District (FRWRD) is a Sanitation District formed under the State of Illinois Sanitary District Act of 1917 to protect public health. The purpose of the Fox River Water Reclamation District is to establish, maintain, and manage the collection and treatment of wastewater within the District's service area.

FRWRD owns and operates three water reclamation facilities (WRF) the Albin D. Pagorski, the North WRF, and the West WRF, and 12 remote pump stations. Treated effluent from each of the WRFs is discharged to the Fox River.

The WRFs provide wastewater treatment services to over 200,000 people within the communities of Elgin, South Elgin, West Dundee, portions of Sleepy Hollow, Streamwood, Hoffman Estates, unincorporated St. Charles Township, and surrounding areas in Kane and Cook Counties.

Streamwood and Hoffman Estates are located in the Metropolitan Water Reclamation District of Greater Chicago Sub Facility Planning Area within the Poplar Creek Watershed. FRWRD provides service to the Poplar Creek Watershed by contract with MWRDGC. West Dundee is a separate FPA with a portion of its wastewater treated by FRWRD via contract.
